Tenants Rights At SWNA Mon. June 28

The Future of Rental Housing in Southwest: How It Will Affect Us All," is the subject of the public meeting of the Southwest Neighborhood Assembly (SWNA) at St. Matthews Lutheran Church, Mon. June 28 at 7:30 pm.

The Feb. 04 Southwester quoted Saadia Athias saying, "Some of the stressful problems include mold infestation, sand-blasting of the exterior that expose tenants to asbestos, cancellation of security guard, rodent and roach problems and pet law changes" at 201 I St. S.W.

A former tenant of one of the three Capitol Park apartment houses that were recently sold and renovated wrote The Southwester on May 31, "These tenants (including myself) are being forced out to look for housing to rent or buy in oppressively expensive market conditions, or pay through the nose to continue living here in fear, often with no functioning elevators, heat, or air conditioning..."

Tenant representatives and Attorney Lloyd Jordan, former Director, D.C. Consumer and Regulatory Affairs Dept., will speak at the SWNA meeting.

BB Stadium To Swallow S.W.?

D.C. Council Member Jack Evans' proposal regarding a baseball stadium at L'Enfant Plaza has had several interpretations. Evans himself says it safeguarded citizens rights to be consulted IF D C is selected for a franchise, and IF the L'Enfant site is chosen over two competing sites.

ANC 6D Commissioner Andy Litzky, feared that it would mandate a baseball stadium on the L'Enfant Plaza/Banneker

Overlook site and "circumvent the District-endorsed stadium site selection process currently underway."

Council Member Harold Brazil, after his committee approved a bill WITHOUT the baseball provision said "The Southwest community was not happy with the proposed amendment and this legislation was not the appropriate vehicle for such language."

Police Awards Sat. July 10

The annual awards police banquet will honor previous First District Commanders, at the Bolling Air Force Base Officers Club, Sat. July 10 at 6:30 pm.

$35 tickets can be purchased by July 7 with checks payable to "MPD 1D CAC" and sent to 415 4th St. SW, Washington, D.C. 20024.

S.W. Youth, Seniors Act At Arena Stage

Two evenings of "theatre pieces created by community members in Southwest, DC," were performed to packed houses by 17 Jefferson Jr. High students and by four retired S.W. women at Arena Stage's Old Vat Room in May.

The teen drama program met with professional actors Laura Zam and Psalmayene 24 at St. Matthew's Lutheran Church twice a week since February learning acting, improvisation, movement/dance, vocal production and writing.

The four adults were in a "seven week creative writing and performance workshop [with Arena Stage's Laura Zam in the Southwest Neighborhood Assembly Board Room], where they shared stories of their lives."

Five of the seventeen Jefferson Jr. High students who performed "Voices of Now" at Arena Stage's Old Vat stage.

SWNA On Vacation

After the June 28 meeting, the next meeting of the Southwest Neighborhood Assembly will be Mon. Sep. 29.

The Southwester will not publish during the summer.

The original Second Baptist Church at Delaware Ave. & H St. S.W. has been approved as an historical site by the Historical Preservation Board of D.C. The developers of an apartment building at that site will have to comply with certain requirements.

Wilson High Grads Head To College

Of the 400 seniors graduating from Woodrow Wilson High recently, 80% will attend two & four year colleges/universities, according to Wilson's principal Dr. Stephen Tarason.

These seniors have been accepted to 144 colleges & universities in 31 states and Canada & Ireland," Dr. Tarason wrote to parents. "States that offered the most placements are North Carolina (46), Virginia (44), Maryland (25), Michigan (18), Wisconsin (16), Massachusetts (15), New York (15), District of Columbia (10)."

Dr. Tarason also reported that 310 Wilson students took more than 715 Advanced Placement college level exams this year.

Jefferson Jr. High, in Southwest, is a feeder school to Wilson. Wilson each year has over 100 students from Southwest in attendance. ■

Smith Inducted Into Hampton's Hall of Fame

By Thelma D. Jones

Congratulations to Southwest resident Doug Smith who was recently inducted into Hampton University's Hall of Fame. An award-winning journalist with more than 25 years of achievement, Smith was an editor and writer with Newsday, The New York Post, and USA. Currently, he is working on a biography for the late Dr. Robert Walter Johnson, a physician who built a tennis court in the backyard of his Lynchburg, VA home and trained and developed promising black juniors such as Arthur Ashe and Althea Gibson during the 1940s and 1950s. Smith is the co-author of "Zina, My Life in Women's Tennis," the life story of former tennis pro Zina Garrison. Smith is a graduate of Hampton University where he majored in mathematics and was a member of the University's CIAAA championship tennis teams in 1961, 1962 and 1964. He and his wife Ann attend St. Augustine's Episcopal Church where they volunteer with the Sunday Morning Homeless Feeding Ministry and other church activities. ■

Fresh New Look For SW Schools

By Mary Williams

Hundreds of volunteers raked, shoveled, planted and painted on a fresh new look at three Southwest schools during the Hands On DC project last month.

Bowen Elementary received a fresh new landscape, compliments of eager volunteers armed with hoes and shovels and garbage bags. Among the volunteers were Southwest residents Claudia Askew, vice president of the Capitol Park IV Board, George Lentz, a Capitol Park IV board member, Ruby Cleveland and her two grandchildren, Paris Holman, 7, a 2nd grader, and Hazel Holman, 8, a 3rd grader, both of whom attend Bowen.

Accenture Government Services, a Reston, VA-based government consulting firm, adopted Amidon Elementary School and worked throughout the day to transform Amidon's bare front yard into a bountiful tree-lined living classroom, complete with fruit and flowering trees.

Principal John Goudeaux said he was excited about the project and thankful for the many volunteers who made the project possible.

"I'm excited that we will be able to open up a whole new world to students here," Goudeaux said. "This is an excellent learning tool."

Goudeaux didn't just stand by and supervise the work. He was frequently driving a wheelbarrel filled with soil and mulch.

Southwest resident R.J. Wolf, an Accenture analyst, was instrumental in getting the Amidon project off the ground. Wolf said that he wanted to do something for his neighborhood.

"I walk by here every day, and I thought that this would be the place for Accenture to help," Wolf said.

While 65 Accenture volunteers worked at Amidon, dozens more painted inside and out at neighboring Jefferson Junior High. The outside chain fence was given a fresh coat of green paint to hide the rust while many classrooms got a bright coat of fresh paint as part of the spring cleaning project.

Accenture volunteers gave the fence outside Jefferson Jr. High, at right, a fresh new coat of green paint to cover up the dull, rusty chain link.

Dozens of jazz musicians performed recently at a wake for Rick Henderson, "Duke Ellington's favorite sax man," at Westminster Church in S.W. He was a composer and the orchestra leader at the Howard Theatre before it closed in the 1970s.
